PEACH KINGS WIN AND LOSE

LOSE THURSDAY NIGHT 4-2

Go Down Before Falls Team in Mighty Struggle—Held Game to 1-1 Tie for Two Periods—Fraser Uses Fisher for Settee—Last Period Was a Real Movie Thriller—Outlucked But Not Outplayed.

Still showing the effects of their hard game two nights previous, the Grimsby Peach Kings lost the first game of their two game series for the Allan Cup to Niagara Falls by a score of 4-2. The Kings battled like true warriors and went down with flying colors and fighting to the last.

The last ten minutes of the game was a real cyclone of speed and shooting with the Kings leading the way. In this last period Fraser winged a shot at Fisher which "Red" blocked and cleared, in doing he went out of his nets and Fraser toppled him over and then sat down on him and held him down—Seibert rushed in, grabbed the rubber and scored. Referee Marsh did not stop the play and the goal counted.

The game as reported by the Toronto Globe, is as follows:— Niagara Falls seniors had the experience and the scoring punch here last night. The Grimsby intermediates didn't have either and as a result the first of the Allan Cup elimination series finished with the Power City team in front by 4 to 2.

The struggle fully justified the expectations of the crowded arena, and the beaten sextet clearly indicated that they are not out of the running yet. The final game will be played tomorrow night, and all those who saw the first game will be back to cheer two courageous teams.

Niagara Falls did not enter the battle over-confident. The defeat of the Sault Ste. Marie team was a real warning, and it did not go unnoticed by the senior champions, who from first to last were out to the last notch to hold out the speedy players from the fruit belt. Niagara's experience was a decided asset. When they got chances they knew what to do, but on the other hand wasted opportunities brought about the defeat.

Grimsby Finish Strongly Grimsby were outscored three to one in the last period, but they finished with a rush that nearly gave them the victory. Goalkeeper Mayo will never forget the last ten minutes when he was showered with shots from all ranges and let only one get past. Grimsby's gallant finish had the fans on their feet cheering wildly, and when Held finally took a pass from Carson, and hit the twine from right in front of Mayo the roar of applause could be heard for blocks.

Some of the fans will say that the Grimsby team were outlucked, and they may have been. But Niagara Falls, who got nearly all the penalties, deserve credit for beating a team that is powerful in every position. The senior titleholders faced a trying task, and they came out of it with flying colors, but they failed to demonstrate that the senior teams are greatly superior to those in the intermediate ranks. Grimsby certainly played grand hockey, and they will likely flash back tomorrow night with another sterling exhibition.

Until the last period goals were as scarce as hens' teeth. Each counted once in the first period, and neither scored in the second. But early in the last "Six" Nick took a pass from Horrington, went unchecked in front of the net, and his successful shot started his team on the way to victory. Seven minutes later Seibert tallied from a scramble in front of the Grimsby net, and shortly after this achievement Fraser rushed from end to end to beat Fisher in a close range.

Prevent Goals by Tripping Grimsby then opened up the most scintillating rally of the game. They bottled up the Niagara Falls players in their own end of the rink, and potted fast shots at Mayo. Most of them were inaccurate, but nevertheless Mayo had to make some brilliant saves. Niagara Falls' scriven desperate, tripped the incoming puck-carriers several times to prevent goals being scored, and the penalties that resulted gave Grimsby a fine

CHAMPIONSHIP CHATTER

Peach Kings Champions
It's A Grand and Glorious Feeling.
All the World knows by now that Peach Kings are champions.

Three Championships for Harry Held. And what a sweet, fast, brainy player he still is.

Hang tight! It's only a little while until the start of the game tonight and a couple of hours should show that Kingston will be the intermediate O. H. A. champion—Kingston Standard.

The Peach Kings arrived this morning to the team during the time they're ready to go home the peaches should look like a handful of apricots—Kingston Standard.

Gene Fraser sent a wire of congratulations to the team during the middle of the third period of the Kingston game.

It's hard to realize it, but it's a fact. Championships come but once in a life time.

Kingston can well feel proud of their team. They are a right smart bunch of hockey players, Gentlemen and Sportsmen always.

"Shorty" Horne, the Sudbury boy who plays right wing for Grimsby, is developing into a fine player. He is fast, a good stick-handler and, as a result, a good stick-hander on the opposing defence. He starred in both games against the Falls, and when he gets a little more finish will rank with the best—Mail and Empire.

Couch McNamara, who has seen all the great teams in action during the past 20 years, was surprised when the tenacious Grimsby players got into action. The conquerors of the Soo made a hit with the Greyhounds' leader, and he thinks they will spring another surprise against the Falls. At any rate the Soo are pulling hard for Grimsby to win the Allan Cup—The Globe.

A special C. N. R. train will leave Niagara Falls at 5:45 p.m. Thursday and arrive at Toronto at 7:35 for the first game of the big Allan Cup series between the Soo Greyhounds and Niagara Falls—Niagara Falls Review, Tuesday March 3rd.

The Carson brothers, Bill and Frank, of the Stratford Indians were spectators at the Soo-Grimsby game Tuesday night when their younger brother, Gerald, performed and starred on the defense of the Peach Kings. It's a funny old day when some member of the Carson family is not represented on a winning team—Niagara Falls Review.

The sorest touch of all was when they served the Soo Greyhound with "peaches and cream" for breakfast at their hotel this a.m. The players thought that was robbing it in—Toronto Star.

Man's a Soo-Toronto recreation for Thursday and Saturday night was canceled at the railway offices in Sault Ste. Marie today—Toronto Star.

Thursday night's tangle they can't prove it by me.
Peach Kings owned the Allan Cup for four days anyway.

All Toronto was rooting for the Kings to take the round from the Falls. Gene Fraser still stands out as one of the most resourceful players in the game today.

Hockey Critics everywhere acknowledge the Peach Kings to be the greatest intermediate team that ever graced the O. H. A.

Toronto people in all walks of life accorded the Peach Kings the very finest of treatment both on and off the ice.

Held and his boys showed the world what a game, never-say-die team they were in that Saturday night tilt. With McVicar out completely and Carson with a badly wrenched shoulder they showed a fighting spirit that made 10,000 people cheer them to an echo.

Jerry Carson exhibited a brand of gameness on Saturday night that Toronto fans never witnessed before. His left shoulder muscles and ligaments were badly torn and wrenched in the first period, but the big boy stuck to his guns and played a marvellous game. All honor to him.

All Grimsby wish the Falls team every success in their fight for the Dominion honors.

Artie Clark received a gash over the right eye in the Saturday game, but it did not prevent him from turning in a smart game.

"Shorty" Horne gave the huge crowd an exhibition of stickhandling that they seldom see anywhere.

Buddy Fisher proved himself to be one of the greatest goalies in the game. His cool headed work earned him great applause from the crowd.

"Pop" McVicar has suffered more injuries this winter than all the rest of the team, but he gamely comes back for more.

Peach Kings have placed Grimsby in a solid spot in the pages of hockey history.

Don't worry, Harry Reid and his boys will all be together again next winter.

WILL BANQUET PEACH KINGS

O.H.A. Cup and Medals Will Be Presented to Victorious Players At Village Inn, Tomorrow Night—Get Tickets Early

Tomorrow night (Thursday) a banquet will be tendered to the victorious Peach Kings in the spacious dining rooms of the Village Inn commencing at eight o'clock. For several days the town council have had the matter in hand and have arranged an excellent toast list and programme.

Music for the occasion will be provided by the Moonlight Serenaders orchestra with community singers led by Harry Hillier, who has also composed a couple of special songs for the occasion. Solos will be given by Rev. F. S. Milliken and Henry Hillier while Gordon L. Eaton will delight as usual with one of his habitant selections. Harry Campbell will act as pianist and ex-mayor C. T. Farrer will be toastmaster.

Representatives of the O. H. A. will be present and will make a special presentation of the John S. Martin Memorial Cup, emblematic of the intermediate championship of the O. H. A. as well as presenting a medal to each one of the champion Grimsby players.

Other special features are being arranged and it is expected that one of the largest assemblages that has ever attended a banquet in Grimsby will be present. Tickets for the event are selling fast and as there are only a limited number do not wait until the last moment to secure one. The tickets are one dollar a piece and are on sale at Farrell's drug store and at E. J. Hoffman's store.

On Tuesday night next, March 17th, St. Patrick's night, the members of the Grimsby Fire Department will hold their annual party at the Independent hall to which all residents of the district are cordially invited.

The fire laddies are making special efforts this year to see that their guests have a right royal time and they promise a hot night's fun for all. Nonion refreshments assisted by Prof. Hill will supply the music for both round and square dances and you will be able to "Dip-and-dive" to your hearts content.

A LONG, HARD SEASON

Ever since that memorable night in Port Colborne: Tuesday, December 30th, 1924, the Peach Kings have had one long, hard row to hoe in order to reach their present position at the top of the championship ladder. For the second time in two years they have brought the intermediate championship to the Fruit Belt, Niagara Falls turning the trick last year, and this only goes to prove the statement that the team that can win this group can almost win the championship. Not content with winning the intermediate championship the boys slipped into Toronto and startled the hockey world by handing the famous Soo Greyhounds at 3-2 lacing and becoming the temporary possessors of the Allen cup, only to lose it to the Falls by one goal.

Grimsby opened the season in Port Colborne in none too good shape. "Bo" Farrell was on the hospital list from a broken leg received in Niagara Falls two weeks previous. George Horne had been refused a certificate by the O.H.A., and Hayhoe had not yet rounded into shape. This first game was a mighty struggle. The team had fought snow-drifts and cold winds for three hours to get into the canal town by nine o'clock. It was nine-thirty before the game got under way and it was thirty minutes after midnight when it finished with the score tie, five all, after playing thirty minutes overtime.

Three nights later the boys went into Welland and again went a half hour overtime in order to pull out a 4-2 victory. These two games were enough to break the fighting spirit of any team. The rinks were small and the lights poor and the travelling most brutal, for any team, let alone one that was forced to play short-handed. But that fighting spirit that was destined to carry them to the top was manifested at all times and they came through with flying colors.

The two Dunnville games were real speed-fests and tested the boys to the utmost. In Dunnville they pulled out a 4-2 win in one of the hardest fought games of the year, while at home, they defeated the Mudcats 6-2.

Welland proved an easy victim at home when they were trounced 8-0, but the same cannot be said of the Falls for the Kings had to step to town all night to beat them 1-0, and the same applied in the Falls when the locals won out 3-1.

BAXTER LEAVES FOR ENGLAND

Accepts Government Position for Purpose of Investigating Marketing Conditions—Will Not Be Available for Important Deliverations of N.P.G. Shareholders

C. W. Baxter, general manager of the Niagara Peninsula Growers, Ltd., left on Monday for England as a commissioner of the Ontario government to make an investigation of marketing conditions. Hon. John S. Martin announced some time ago that Mr. Baxter had been selected by the government to make the trip. When spoken to over the long-distance telephone, Hon. Mr. Martin stated that the plans had been completed. It was expected that Mr. Baxter would leave soon. The minister of agriculture said that Mr. Baxter would be away three months, and on his return would submit his report to the department. The recommendations will be thoroughly considered by the government and action is promised by Hon. Mr. Martin.

Mr. Baxter is going as a commissioner for the Ontario government to investigate marketing possibilities. It is his intention to open up a wider market for fruit and other commodities from Ontario. Mr. Baxter will make a complete survey of conditions. It has been suggested that the government establish a warehouse in England for the distribution of products from Ontario and this suggestion will be investigated.

Hon. Mr. Martin stated that the report would be thorough, and said that the statement would be submitted to his department.

TELEPHONES IN ONTARIO AND QUEBEC
Although 1924 was a period of very quiet general business, says the Annual Report of the Bell Telephone Company the number of telephones increased by 50,697. The total of Bell telephones now in service in Ontario and Quebec is 536,848. This is a very creditable development of this great utility. As to this total approximately 145,876 telephones operated by independent companies, most of which connect with Bell exchanges, and you have a development for the two provinces of something like 129 telephones per hundred inhabitants.

CARD OF THANKS
The Head Office wish to thank their many friends and neighbors for the kindness shown them in their recent bereavement.

WIN SATURDAY NIGHT 4-3

Reid and Co., Although Deprived of McVicar's Services After First Period, Win Game from Falls by 4 to 3—Carson Suffers Injured Shoulder—Grimsby's Last-Minute Rally Thrills Crowded Arena—Lose Round by One Goal

No team ever faced and overcame more obstacles and handicaps than did Grimsby Peach Kings in Toronto Arena on Saturday night when they went into battle against Niagara Falls two goals down on the round. They had their backs against the wall and battled for all they were worth. They evened the round score in the first period and left the ice with a score of 2-2 in their favor and 4 all on the round. While it was a winning spasm it was also a mighty disastrous one.

While the period was really the one that won the game for the Kings, it also was the frame in which they really lost the game, for in the dying moments McVicar suffered a badly cut artery in his foot which put him out of business completely, and Jerry Carson tore the ligaments and muscles of his left shoulder which caused him all kinds of agony throughout the balance of the game and practically ruined his shooting arm. The loss of these two boys gave the Falls the advantage that allowed them to win the round by one goal even though they lost the game 4-3.

That Grimsby turned in a most creditable performance is shown by the following splendid report of the game in detail as it happened in the Toronto Globe.

When the Niagara Falls intermediate battle ended here on Saturday night with the team from the Power City losers of the game by 4 to 3, but winners on the round by 7 to 6, thousands of fans cheered victors and vanquished alike. It was a great tribute to both, and especially to the plucky team from Grimsby, who won the second game by 4 to 3 and might have won the championship had they not lost the valuable services of J. R. McVicar, their sturdy and capable defense man, who was badly injured near the end of the opening period.

Grimsby opened the struggle with a sustained and powerful attack, against which nearly all the Niagara Falls players weakened and lost their confidence. Manager Gene Fraser alone stood up before the determined assault, and he undoubtedly saved his team from a decisive defeat. Grimsby had all the better of the going while they were at full strength, and they outscored their Niagara Peninsula rivals by 2 to 0 in the first 20 minutes. The intermission found them deadlocked on the round and the Falls chances slipping away.

But when a doctor examined McVicar's injured foot during the rest interval and refused to allow him to continue—McVicar cut an artery in his ankle—Grimsby's chance did not look bright. The fortunes of war had intervened when prospects looked darkest for the team from the Falls. After that Burnside won back on the defense, and, considering that he is a forward, did good work, but there were times when he faltered, and on those occasions the experienced signers wearing the tricolor knew what to do.

Grimsby Great Team.

That the Falls won a most meritorious victory goes without saying, even though McVicar was out of it. The Grimsby team are intermediates in name only. Placed in the same group with other veterans of Niagara Falls, they would likely have won the senior championship. They are the youngest and the best sextet that ever operated in the O. H. A. intermediate series. In the short space of five days they have defeated Niagara Falls and the Soo, and lost to the Falls by 4 to 2. That is a record that may never be equaled again by an intermediate organization.

The fact that the Grimsby team were rated as intermediates and their opponents as seniors caused the fans to cheer for the former. Toronto fans don't really love to applaud the "under dog". Grimsby will never forget the way they were appreciated here and the Falls players, most of whom are seniors.

Unfortunately in favor of their opponents. The arena was packed to capacity to see the biggest battle of the year, and all the scenes of other days were enacted again. When the Grimsby team opened the struggle by playing brilliant hockey the fans got in behind them almost to a man, and the din and noise from then until the finish was never surpassed on Toronto ice.

Eleven Penalties.
Had Niagara Falls not suffered so

FACTS AND FANCIES BY FRANK FAIRBORN (Jas. A. Livingston.)

All Honor to the Peach Kings:

After the Peach Kings beat the Soo Greyhounds in the Arena, Toronto, a big policeman said to me: "Where did you get 'em?" "We picked them off the trees!" I replied. "Where did you think we would get peaches?"

Talking about the Peach Kings, reminds me that they have beaten every high class hockey team as they came to it—New Hamburg, Kingston, Sault Ste. Marie and Niagara Falls.

What do you think of an intermediate hockey team going to Toronto, staying there a week, beating two of the best senior teams in Ontario two out of three games, and drawing the biggest crowds ever seen at hockey games in Toronto. The Peach Kings, did it, and where did they come from? GRIMSBY!

Grimsby has had a lot of free advertising in the past. Her productive peach orchards, her beautiful park her cold storage and ice plant, and her salubrious climate have done much to put this little town on the map—but, never did she get such an enormous amount of advertising throughout the entire Dominion, as she got during the past week through the marvelous work of her hockey team—the Peach Kings.

There was not a newspaper from Halifax on the east to Vancouver on the west or Cobalt in the north, to New York in the south but blazoned her name in black type on their sporting pages, in describing the phenomenal work of her hockey team—the Peach Kings.

And this great success was not achieved by the individual and combined work of the players alone, the earnest and efficient work of the management, the trainers and the caretakers and the splendid backing by the public all contributed to the success that crowned the efforts of the team.

Imagine a crowd of several hundred people going to Grimsby, Beamsville and vicinity to Toronto three nights in a week, to cheer on and root for their favorites—the Peach Kings.

All glory to the Peach Kings! All glory to the sport loving people of Grimsby and Beamsville! They worked hard for the honor. They deserved it—and they got it.

American Law and Order:

Law and order is certain. Almost a thing of the past in the United States. A man in Niagara Falls, N. Y., who had been earnest and energetic in carrying out the law as a customs officer, was blown to pieces by a bomb attached to the starter on his car, a week ago last Sunday.

A few days later a man who was supposed to know something about the crime was shot and killed in broad daylight on one of the main streets of Buffalo.

It certainly is not for the "want of laws" that the United States is so lawless—they have laws enough. God knows, and their legislators are turning out more every day—and Canada is largely in the same boat.

What is the matter? Is it that we have ceased to expect men to be righteous for the sake of being righteous, and are undertaking to make men good by force of law—thus creating law-breakers and disrespectors of the law.

By the law comes sin. Perhaps then, 'twere better had we less law in hope that we might have less sin.

Church Union:

It's a fine thing for some of the presbyterians that this church fight came on. It has drawn some of the old hard-shells out to church who have not been there for years.

It puzzles me where the whole thing is going to arrive at. At present, the Presbyterian churches are divided about two-thirds for Union and about one-third against it.

Now, how is that going to work out? Suppose a congregation votes 100 for union and 50 against union, the 100 holds the church property! What is the 50 going to do? I suppose they can do like Mike Macdonald did.

Of course, if 50 votes for union and 100 against it, both sides will be alright, the 100 can hold the church property and the 50 can bunk in with the Methodists.

I know a little circuit of three churches and they practically all voted against union, and now they are sitting pretty—same churches, same preacher, same people. If anybody has a chance for Heaven, they have.

And here's another thing—suppose a man joins the union and dies and goes to Heaven; and suppose another man who won't join the union dies and goes to Heaven, and they meet up at the pearly gates—they will both look pretty sheepish, won't they? And they will both feel like saying: "I told you so."

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?

(By E. R. Waite, Secretary, Shawnee, Okla., Board of Commerce.)

THAT the natural trade territory of your town is a rich section—CULTIVATE IT!

THAT if it is properly cultivated, it will develop much new business for your town.

THAT for your town to be a more live trade centre is what you want, and what you must have in order to increase business.

THAT it is good for a town to have a section which it can claim as its trade territory, and where it can co-operate in an active and helpful way in the development of business for the whole community.

THAT it should be the ambition of every business concern to develop the trade territory it now has, and add to it as much as possible.

THAT the best way to increase business is to advertise. Let the people know WHO you ARE; WHERE you ARE; and WHAT you HAVE. People are always looking for this kind of information, and it is good business to let them have the information they want.

THAT if your business is not up to your ambition, you should start advertising. You must have faith in your business or you wouldn't be in it.

YOU SHOULD BE PROUD OF YOUR BUSINESS AND IF YOU ARE, YOU SHOULD ADVERTISE AND TELL OTHERS

THINGS MONEY WILL NOT BUY

The greatest things in life are not purchasable with money. Money can buy the luxurious bath in a marble mansion, but it cannot buy the joy of the swimming hole down in the old creek, where boyhood democracy is at its best. Money can buy the costly electric toy, but that toy cannot yield the thrill that comes to the boy who makes his first kite with his own hands and sees it sailing aloft at the end of a string held in his own fingers. Money can buy the choice seats at the opera, but no amount of money can buy the thrill felt by the small boy who earns his way into the circus by carrying water to the elephants.

Paris, and Rome and Venice can never hold for the poor little rich boys the joys and the thrills that come to the rich little poor boys who roam the woods, gathering nuts, listening to the songs of the wild birds, testing new-found herbs and roots, chasing rabbits, trying to understand the chatter of the squirrels and giving ear to the rustle of the crisp autumn leaves under foot. Money can buy the choicest viands in G. & M.'s cafes but these viands never taste to the poor little rich boys as do the roasted eggs and potatoes and sub-covered bacon tastes to the rich little poor boys who wander through the fields and the woods, fish the little streams and feel the soothing mud squashing up between their wriggling toes.

THE MISSING CYLINDER OF A COMMUNITY

The progressive town is like a fine six or eight cylinder car, putting along evenly as it carries its passengers, the residents of the community, over the hills that stand in the way of prosperity.

But sometimes a good looking town, like many beautiful cars, will roll along evenly while the roads are level, but upon reaching a hill of business adversity, will stop, wobble and jerk, and finally come to a dead stop before it reaches the crest.

A missing cylinder, you say? Yes, and that missing cylinder is the man or woman who shows no interest in home town business or in the welfare of the community.

RAZZING BY RADIO

A bit of bunk is being broadcasted from radio stations these days, such as the proceedings of criminal trials, political clatter, canned and spoiled music, and alleged wisdom from obscure specialists. Farmers are alleged radio fans in many sections of the country.

"Razzing" them by radio is now almost as interesting a game as bawling them with the stamp speech full of political promises.

THE WAY OF THE WORLD

The editor goes on week after week boosting the town and community and advocating the doctrine of trading at home. He says that's the right idea; tell 'em. He then refuses to help support the paper with his advertising and calmly sends an order to another print shop for a supply of stationery. Fun, world, isn't it?

Americanism: "We must invite the Blacks. I hear he's making thirty thousand a year."

Letters To The Editor

TOO MANY VARIETIES

February 27 1925

Dear Sir:—It is generally conceded that there are too many varieties of tree fruits of poor quality growing in the Niagara District and that these poor varieties contribute to the difficulties of our marketing problem. This applies to all our tree fruits and particularly to plums. We believe that it would be better for both producer and consumer if these poor varieties were substituted by or topgrafted to better varieties.

We have therefore planned to do some experiments in topgrafting this spring and intend to make a special study of grafting the best varieties of plums on some of the less desirable varieties of Japanese and European plums.

The practice of topgrafting has been more or less general and undoubtedly there are many growers who have valuable information that would be quite helpful if it were generally known. Reliable information of this nature takes a long time to get by experimental methods. We would therefore be pleased to hear from you regarding the results you have secured in topgrafting plums and also cherries and pears.

The points on which we specially desire information are as follows: Stock varieties: Scion varieties: Method of topgrafting used: Kind of union formed: and behavior of scion varieties with reference to growth, productiveness and vigor. Any information you may have along this line will be very much appreciated. Thanking you in anticipation of an early reply.

Yours very truly,

J. A. NEILSON

A LITTLE TALK ON THRIFT

Any young man or woman in America today might well memorize these words from Lord Chesterfield: "Every moment you lose is so much character and advantage lost; as, on the other hand, every moment you now employ usefully is so much time wisely laid out at prodigious interest."

No phase of thrift is of greater importance than economy of time. It is easier to save dollars than to save hours.

Aesop's fable of the tortoise and the hare, was founded on excellent philosophy. For persistent effort is bound to bring successful results. It is not hard for any of us to prevent the loss of days or weeks, but it is very easy to slip into the habit of squandering moments.

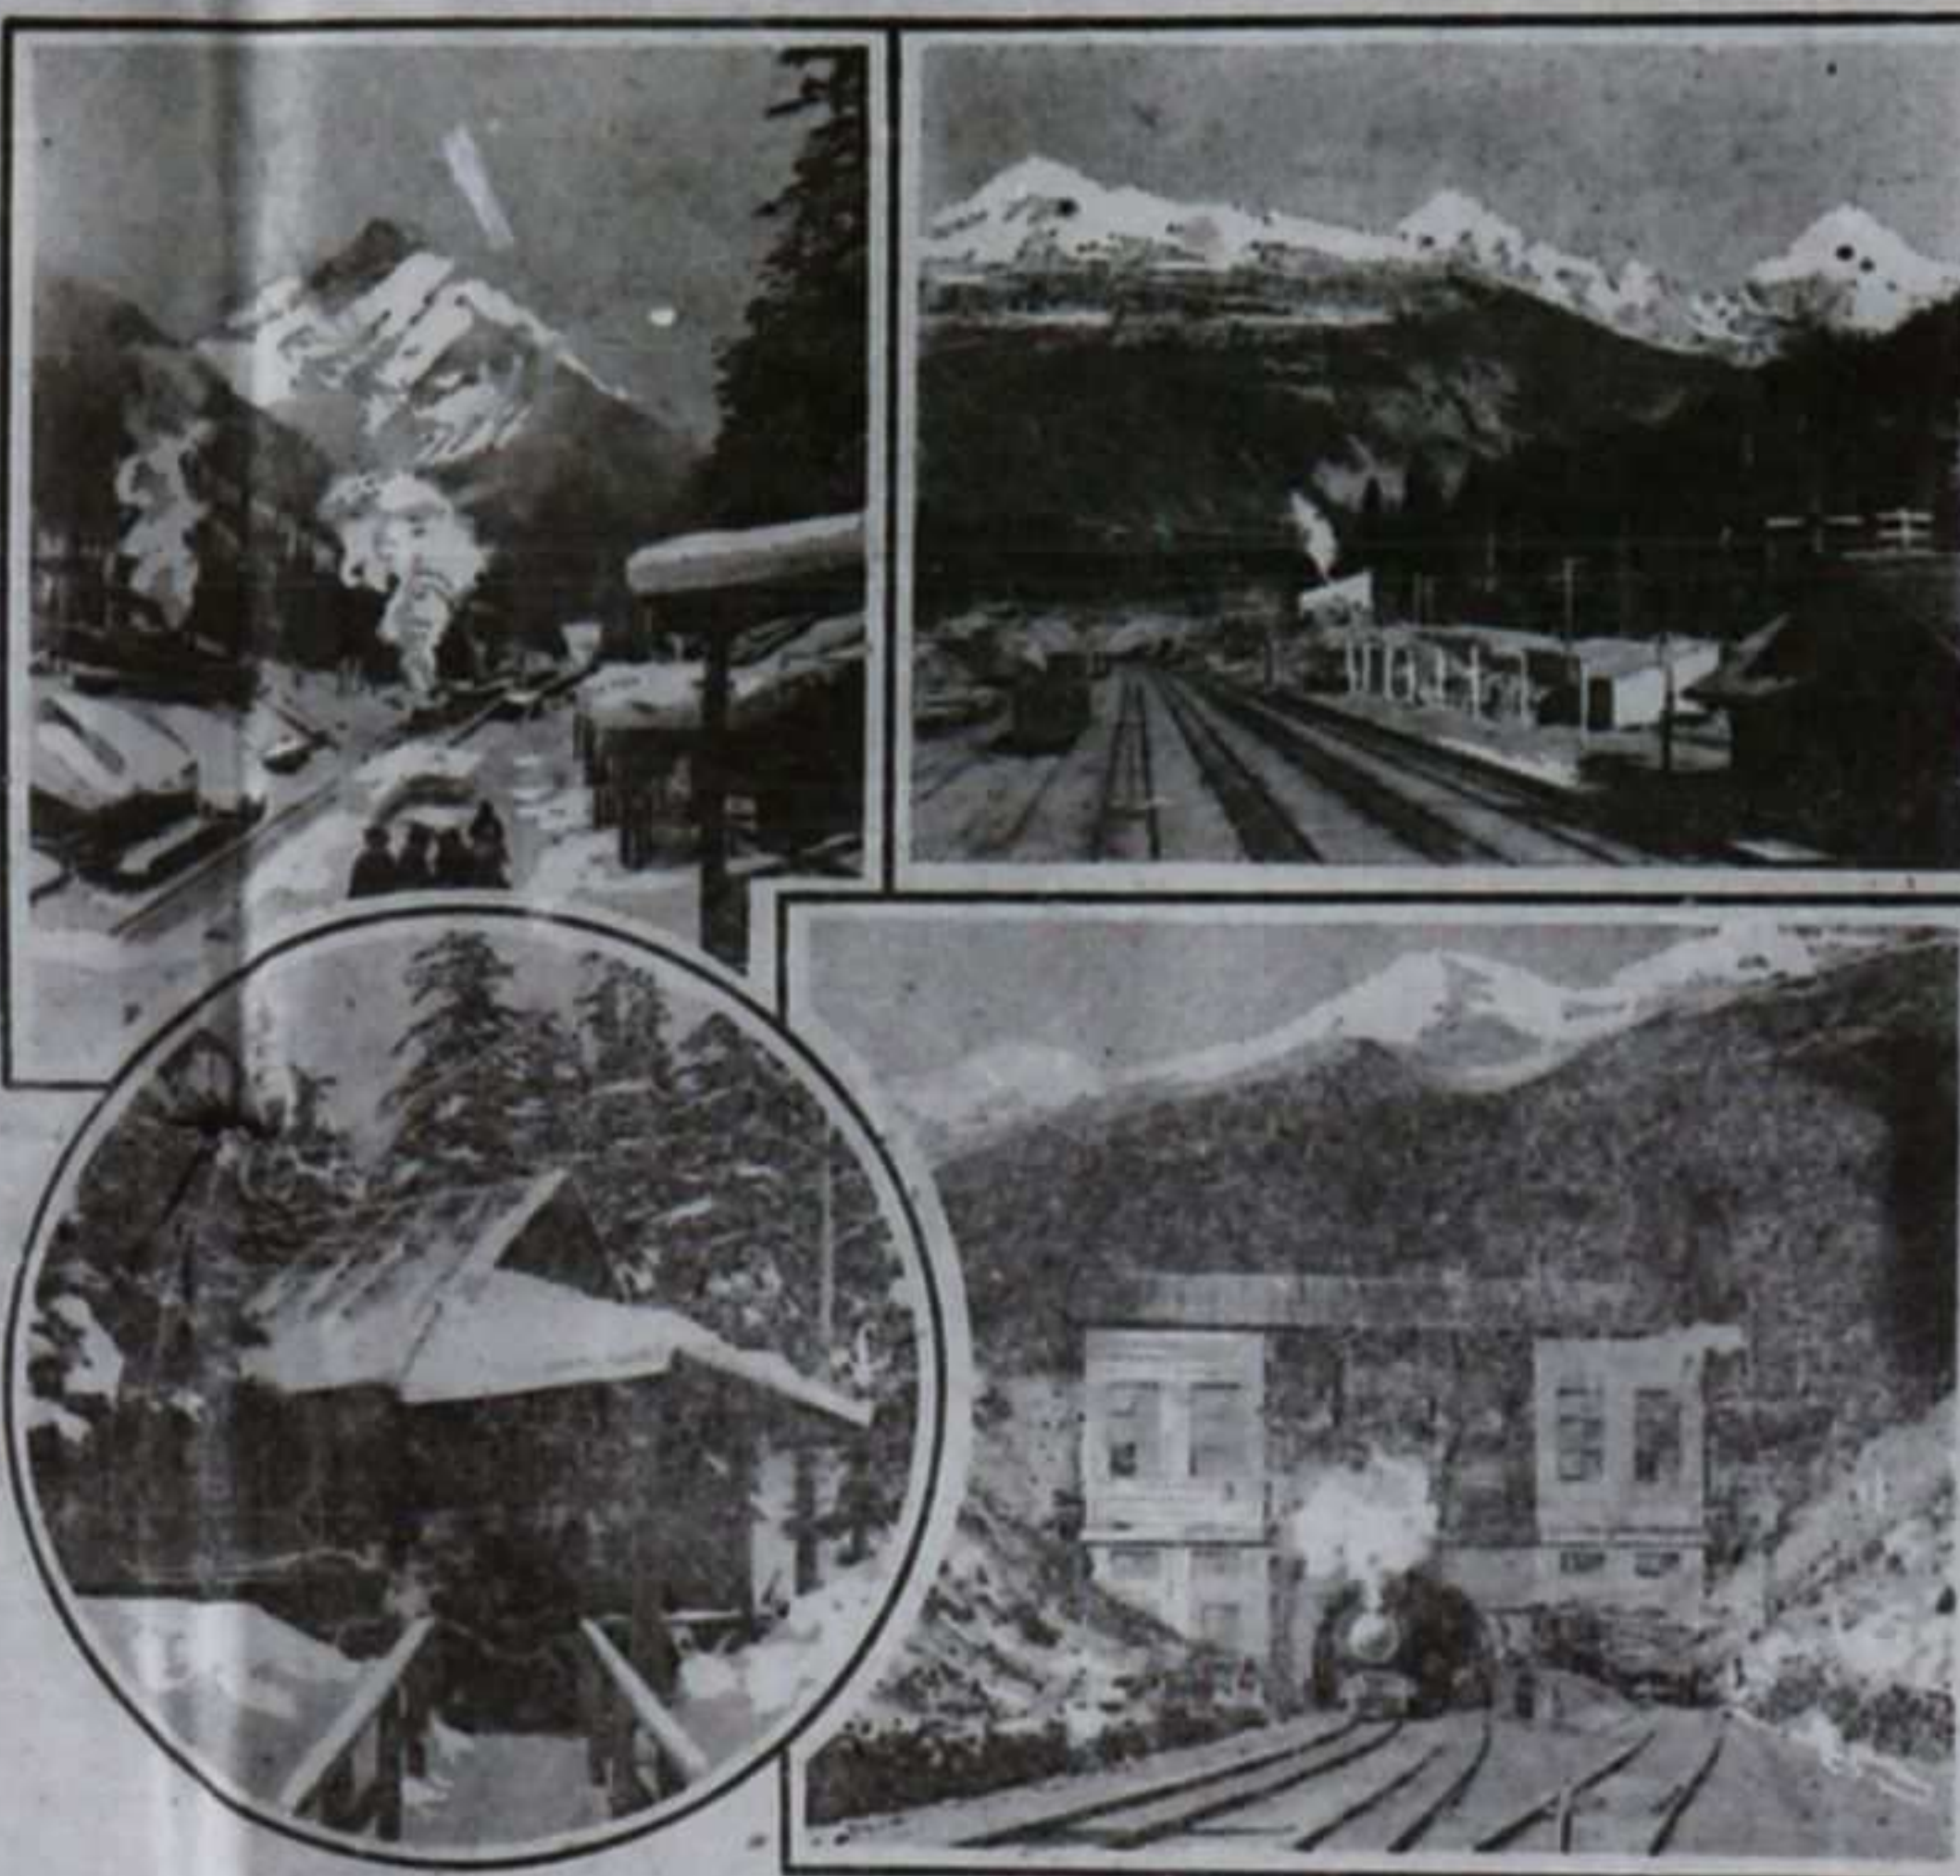

The man with the driving personality who does things and who gets things done and who forges ahead in spite of every obstacle, can tell you the value of moments.

Personal efficiency is found primarily on time economy.

There must be proper periods taken for rest and recreation. For this is a part of health. But there should never be idleness—idleness which has for its object nothing better than the literal killing of time.

The young man or young woman just beginning life's stern activities can learn no better lesson than thrift of time. Without knowing this secret there can be no substantial success. Makes your moments count!

LINING THE CONNAUGHT TUNNEL

Upper left—in spite of heavy snowfalls and below zero weather the work of lining the Connaught Tunnel is continued throughout the winter months. The cloud-wrapped heights of Mount Abbott and Bow Peak stand as water sentinels to the little town.

Upper right—Glacier, B.C., showing Mount Macdonald, 9,452 feet, through which the five mile Connaught Tunnel passes, with an altitude of 12,000 feet, is on the extreme right.

Lower left—The resident engineer's headquarters nestled among giant evergreens on the banks of the Illecillewaet River, ventilate the "big hole."

Lower right—Western Portal of the Connaught Tunnel, showing the fan house and the two huge 14 ft. steel fans which ventilate the "big hole."

High up on the crest of the lofty Selkirk with half a dozen of the finest mountain peaks in the world hunching their snow-clad shoulders about its towers of trim brown houses, lies the picturesque town of Glacier on the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway through British Columbia. Three and a half miles distant from this little construction centre, which has virtually been called into being through the lining of the Connaught Tunnel, hangs the great Illecillewaet Glacier on the slope of Mount Macdonald and two miles nearer nestles Glacier House, the annual headquarters of summer tourists.

Few of the towering peaks at Glacier are less than 9,000 feet in altitude. The famous Cheops, Mount Sir Donald Ross, Eagle and Abbott Peaks encircle the little settlement. In winter time a blanket of snow enfolds town and mountains alike. In spring the brilliant yellow alpine lilies follow the ever-racing snow line as it ebbs and flows higher up the mountain sides. Life is enlivened in the summer time by the crowds of guests who throng Glacier House and transforms the scene again with generous splashes of orange, crimson and russet.

Common interest in the great engineering project under way has brought about a very definite community spirit at Glacier. For almost every youngster of the various branches of work which the lining demands, and every household is regulated by a schedule of working hours which begin at 8 a.m. and end at 11.15. Half a hundred children attend the little brown school house and various clubs for the grown-ups provide interests of a recreational and cultural nature.

Engineers, foremen, carpenters, machinists, drillers, electricians, laborers and train crew make up the wage earners among the 600 residents of Glacier. Eighty men live in a well ordered camp. Here, as in the little homes where the men with families live, all the conveniences of a modern city are enjoyed including electric lights and running water piped from a nearby mountain stream.

The lining of this five mile tunnel, the longest on the American continent, with a steel reinforced concrete jacket represents one of the most interesting engineering projects now under way anywhere in the world.

The lining of the "big hole" was begun in 1920 and when this work is completed the Connaught Tunnel will stand as one of the finest and most complete engineering jobs in the universe. Undertaken in the name of safety, the Connaught Tunnel has always been a "safety first" proposition. Throughout its construction days, during the eight years it has been in operation and the four years that it has already taken to line it, it has been singularly free from accident.

Nearly 500,000 sacks of Canadian cement will have gone into the lining of the Connaught Tunnel when it is finished. Practically all the machinery used in the work is Canadian made, including the huge compressors and powerful motors. The four types of reinforced steel collapsible forms, which are used in the various stages of the lining process, came from a western Canadian plant and the Sydney E. Jenkins Company, B.C., Limited, construction engineers are in charge of its lining.

The tunnel's concrete jacket is completed in sections 22 feet long, each section taking about four or five days to prepare, when it is sometimes necessary to do considerable blasting, one day to fill with concrete and three days in which to set. Six complete sets of forms are at work within the tunnel which means a completed section for every working day in the week, or a total of 132 feet in six days.

More than 100 powerful flood lamps illuminate the tunnel at these six working points. Owing to the remarkable ventilating system, which in itself is one of the most interesting and important features of the tunnel, working conditions are excellent. At the western portal two great steel fans, driven by two 500 h.p. four cylinder semi-Diesel engines, turn at the rate of 255 revolutions a minute driving a brisk breeze through the five-mile length of this great underground passage. The ventilation thus created makes it possible for trains to pass through the tunnel with practically no discomfort to passengers and for workmen to remain at their tasks for eight consecutive hours without detriment to health or vigor.

One comes upon many surprising things in the course of a walk through the great double-track tunnel. Grains of wheat fallen from the thousands of cars of Canada's 1923 bumper crop which have passed through on their way to the port of Vancouver and the city fields are ever in search of provender scampers across the tracks within the very heart of the tunnel. At two points in the tunnel wall doors lead through the solid concrete rock to the pioneer bore and here in this miniature tunnel one finds two brilliantly illuminated and immaculate "white lunches." White capped chefs preside in these underground restaurants dispensing steaming bowls of soup and fragrant coffee to the small army of workers who are bringing to completion the lining of the Connaught Tunnel.

FAVORITE HYMNS AND THEIR WRITERS By Ned Archer Wallace

"BLEST BE THE TIE THAT BINDS"

In the Spring of 1752 a thirteen-year-old lad moved from his home in a Yorkshire village to London, where he began a six years' apprenticeship to a tailor. This lad was John Fawcett, the author of "Blest be the tie that binds." It was during his apprenticeship that young Fawcett heard the great George Whitefield preach. He was so impressed that he determined to enter the ministry and in 1765, he was ordained and placed in charge of a Baptist church at Waingate, in Yorkshire. Here he remained for the remainder of his life, a man of exemplary character and greatly beloved by his people.

In 1772 he was called to the pastorate of a famous Baptist church in London. He accepted the call, gathered his household goods together, and preached his farewell sermon. When the time came to take his departure, so heartrending was the sorrow of the people, that Fawcett could not tear himself away from them. Their passionate regret was more than he, or his wife could withstand. "I will stay," he said, "you may unpack my goods, and we will live for the Lord, lovingly together."

Within a week of that experience, Fawcett wrote his famous hymn. Though his income was less than forty pounds a year, and he received many offers to larger and more prosperous congregations, no new fields of labor ever again attracted him.

In 1789 an address of his on "Angels" found its way to George III, and the King was so impressed that he offered to give Fawcett any favor he might ask. Fawcett did not at that time, accept any favor, but some years later when the son of a friend of his was convicted of forgery, and according to the laws of the time, was sentenced to be hanged he besought pardon for him from the King and the King readily granted it.

In 1782 he issued a volume containing 166 of his hymns. Most of these hymns were composed on Saturday evenings to be sung after his sermon on the following day. Although none of his hymns became so well-known as the one under review, several are still in constant use. Many think that he was the author of the hymn: "Lord, dismiss us with Thy blessing," but there is some uncertainty.

SAFETY FIRST

"Stop! And let the train go by—It hardly takes a minute; Your car starts out again intact, And better still—you're in it."

Auctioneer: "You keep bidding against yourself sir."

Yokel: "No, I ain't. My old woman and me brother asked me to bid for this 'ere gramophone, and I'm just curious to see which of 'em gets it."

Will Be Sold By PUBLIC AUCTION Starting On FRIDAY, MARCH 20 At 7.30 p.m.

AND CONTINUING EACH EVENING UNTIL THE WHOLE IS SOLD

The public is asked to kindly note that this is not a reduction nor an inventory sale, but a genuine CLOSING OUT EVENT in which every one attending will obtain possession of their choice of articles AT THEIR OWN PRICES. The public know the quality of Tuck's Goods, and are positively assured that not one dollar's worth of inferior quality goods has been added by any person or persons to be unloaded on the residents of this community. Every article is a genuine article—the regular stock, and will be honestly described and sold for exactly what it is. As stated above, I am going out of the jewelry line to devote my attention to the practice of Optometry.

For the conduct of this great closing out event, I have secured the services of Auctioneer Long, head of "The International Auction School" (a Canadian institution with successful graduates in six different countries) whose reputation and record as a Jewelry auctioneer places him in the front rank—and whose methods insure to every person attending these sales a square deal and a right royal good time.

A LADIES' DIAMOND RING or a GENT'S WATCH will be given away absolutely FREE during the sale. Come out the first night and hear the conditions governing this gift. There is no obligations imposed other than attendance at the sale.

ADULT STYLES FOR SMALL FOLK

One frequently hears the complaint nowadays that our children are growing too sophisticated. The same word equally well be applied to their fashions though in this respect it could not be taken as a cause for pleasure.

The sophistication of children's clothes, from those for the growing up girl down to the garments for the toddler of two or three summers is, on the contrary, extremely attractive and could not possibly be objected to. Grown up styles are very cleverly adapted to the requirements of the small folk in dresses and coats, where in may be seen the identical colors and many of the same fabrics and trimming effects shown by the garments worn by older sisters and by mothers.

The mannish topcoat is represented in children's wear in much the same proportion as among those for their elders. The same straight tailored lines are followed, with, of course, more fulness in style for the small child of five or six years, as is required by the active child. One coat of this type is in light blue sudeine, smartly buttoned in box effect, and has large revers and mannish collar. Most of these topcoats have plain straight backs, while in a few there is an inverted box pleat down the centre. Two inset pockets add further to the mannish effect.

Color combinations are used in nearly all coats, with contrasting collars and cuffs, or bands and panels. Rose color, or shades of roses, as is officially known, is trimmed with bands of grey or soft green. One coat has little red coats are trimmed with bands of white.

Three types of trimmings only are used, these being buttons, fabric of contrasting color, and braid. One little coat of green velvet for the small child has inset panels at the sides from the waist level, crossed with bands of black and white braid, which is repeated in the same effect on the collar and cuffs. Another is in camel shade, almost a sand color, and is trimmed on the deep cuffs and along the edge of the collar with bands of contrasting material.

All these coats hang straight from the shoulder, and there is a noticeable absence of belts, even in styles for the older girl. These junior styles preserve the straight silhouette of the older mode, but are less elaborate in trimming, embroidery, etc., being as yet a little too sophisticated for the schoolgirl at least where her coat is concerned.

Children's hats are all very small, and in place of brims are made with silk bands or borders. Many styles give a quaint suggestion of the tea cosy effect, being made in sections meeting at the top and finished there with a knot of ribbon.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

If about once a month the house-keeper will pour a cup of kerosene down the sink drain at night, and follow with two gallons of boiling water in the morning, she won't be bothered with clogged pipes.

A double-boiler can be used as an oven for warming biscuits, rolls, muffins, etc., and also serves nicely for crisping any of the ready-cooked cereals or cheese or, in fact, any of the dishes usually baked in the oven may be satisfactorily cooked in the double-boiler.

Sometimes when cooking one will let something burn in the bottom of boilers or saucepans. Next time this happens try this: Dampen with water the burnt or baked contents of vessels; then sprinkle generously with soda; and set the dish somewhere to dry. The burnt food will come loose in a few hours, and you will not have to scrape and worry about nearly ruining your vessel.

If you wet a spoon before using it to serve jelly you will find that the jelly will not stick to it, and the serving is more easily accomplished. To clean windows in damp weather, dip a piece of crumpled newspaper in paraffin oil, rub over the window, then polish with a clean duster. The polish will be brilliant and will last a long time.

To glaze pastries, beat two tablespoonfuls of brown sugar in two tablespoonfuls of milk. Allow to cool, then brush quickly over the pastry. This is much cheaper than using an egg.

To clean oil paintings, rub a slice of fresh cut potato all over the picture. Wipe over with a sponge dipped in warm water; polish with a silk handkerchief.

Dip brooms into boiling water, and then plunge into cold water, and they will become tough strong and durable, lasting much longer than those never dampened. The children like "marble" sandwiches—a slice of white bread and a slice of brown with a favorite filling. To remove grease spots from clothing rub with magnesia, cover with two thicknesses of brown paper or blotting paper and apply a hot iron. Cornstarch will remove some grease spots.

OLIVE OIL POLISH

Here's a way to take out marks caused by setting hot dishes on your table. Make a thin paste of olive oil and salt, spread it over the mark, and leave it for an hour. When you rub it off, the mark will come off.

HEAT OF OVEN IMPORTANT

The proper oven temperature is an important consideration in the successful preparation of food. Many a last minute failure in a carefully prepared recipe is due to too slow or too quick an oven. Oven temperatures for various foods suggested by the home economics college are as follows:

Custards and meringues require a slow oven which ranges in temperature from 250 degrees to 350 degrees F. Sponge cake, angel cake, bread, ginger bread, plain cake and cookies are baked in a moderate oven with a temperature of from 350 degrees to 400 degrees F.

A hot or quick oven, 400 degrees to 450 degrees F., is best for parker house rolls, popovers, baking powder biscuits and some quick breads. For biscuit and pastry, a very hot oven of from 450 degrees to 550 degrees F. is required.

7th BIRTHDAY IS CELEBRATED

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tutschulte of 602 North Comstock avenue, entertained yesterday with a charming dinner party celebration of the seventy-eighth birthday anniversary of Mrs. Tutschulte's mother, Mrs. W. E. Millward, of Grimsby, of Canada, who with her daughter, Miss Muriel, is visiting in Southern California.

The attractive dinner appointments were carried out in the George Washington's birthday motif, with patriotic colors predominating, and a very pleasant afternoon was spent informally.

Places were indicated for Mrs. W. E. Millward, of Canada, the honoree, and her daughter, Miss Muriel, also of Canada, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Daugherty of Brentwood, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tutschulte, and four sons of Los Angeles, and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tutschulte and two sons.—Whittier (California Post.)

VINEMOUNT

A number of hockey fans from this place journeyed to Toronto last week to see the games between Grimsby and Niagara Falls. Needless to say they all rooted for Grimsby. One man living east of here is reported to have swelled his bank account considerably by backing Grimsby against the Soo Greyhounds.

A concert will be given in the school house on the evening of March 17th. The program will be supplied principally by Stony Creek artists, the feature being a minstrel show.

The Vinemount Farmers' Club held a very successful gathering last Thursday night. Mr. A. Cocks gave a very interesting speech on co-operation. A variety programme was given, consisting of songs, recitations and numbers by a local orchestra. A large number of new members joined up.

A boe social will be held at the residence of Mr. Alex. French on Friday night next.

The ground hogs have been seen here. This will be the last sign of spring that will be reported until seeding.

Fall wheat has come through the winter in good shape. From now until spring opens will be the trying time.

The local branch of the Niagara Grape Growers met in the house last Tuesday night. Ready was elected president and J. D. Broad, secretary treasurer. The majority of the growers present favored the continuation of the Niagara Grape Growers, with control of the crop. Very few have cancelled contracts in this section.

"I asked her if I could see her home." "And what did she say?" "Said she would send me a picture of it."

DIES TUESDAY

Prominent Fruit Grower and Horticulturist Passes After Lingered Illness—Funeral on Friday

Edwin Gregor McCallum, Main street east, North Grimsby, died at his home on Tuesday morning, March 10, 1925, after a lingering illness.

Mr. McCallum was born in 1846, of studious Scots parents and took full advantage of educational opportunities which fitted him to be among leaders of men. He was an ardent member of St. John's Presbyterian church, and a staunch Liberal.

Besides his sorrowing widow there are four brothers and one sister surviving: J. J. McCallum of Beamsville being one of them.

The funeral will take place on Friday, March 13, services being held at the house at 2 p.m., with interment in Queen's Lawn cemetery.

His interest was also keen in educational matters, his activities in Park school resulting in a monument to his efforts that will always remain.

ALFALFA, KING OF ALL FODDER

Has High Feeding and Fertilizing Value—Good For All Kinds of Animals—Leaves Ground in Rich Condition

"The King of the Fodder Plants." Alfalfa is not a new plant. Long before the Christian era and as far back as we have any written record of agriculture the merits of this plant have been praised as a soil enricher and a fodder plant. The people of the Old World who had to depend upon the success of the animal industry for their very existence recognized the merits of Alfalfa. In Central and Southern Asia, the home of the Alfalfa plant, no other plant was more highly esteemed. That this is true is indicated by its name which is derived from the Arabic "Alfalfach" which means "The best kind of Fodder."

Feeding Value

All kinds of farm animals relish alfalfa and thrive on it. It furnishes an exceedingly nutritious, wholesome, and palatable feed, be it fed green or as hay. For Dairy Cows it is the best hay known. It has no superior for milk production. It supplies protein in the ration in one of the cheapest forms possible. For sheep and lambs it is exceptionally valuable and for hogs it is fast becoming a necessity to the feeding ration for the production of that ideal bacon hog. For Poultry, alfalfa leaves furnish the green feed and protein which stimulates egg production and increases the hatching power of the eggs. For Horses it may take the place of timothy hay when well cured and fed carefully. In some parts of the Country this is the only roughage fed to thousands of work horses on farms and ranches. Across the border many of the city dray firms are using alfalfa in place of timothy.

Fertilizing Value

Like all other legumes, which include the peas, beans, clover and vetches, alfalfa has the power of enriching the soil with nitrogen from the air. (Nitrogen is also the most expensive fertilizer which we have to buy). It adds large quantities of humus to the soil through dead leaves and decaying roots. Its large root system loosens up heavy soils and binds light soils together. As a drought resister it has no equal. In spite of the heavy yields of hay which it annually gives it leaves the ground in a far richer condition than it found it.

Plan to grow some this year.—W. S. Van Every, Lincoln County Agricultural Representative.

CHURCH UNION IN PENINSULA

Summary Showing Changes As Result of Vote—All But Five Have Voted

The following despatch is published in the St. Catharines Standard of Monday, March 2: Welland, Mar. 2.—What effect if any, will Church Union have in the Niagara District? This is a question that is being asked these days. One, who is in close touch with the movement, has given The Standard the following on this all-important topic. He states: "When one realizes that there are more than two score of denominations serving the district and that only three of them—Methodist, Presbyterian and Congregationalists—have been united by the Federal law passed last summer creating the United Church of Canada, one is apt to think that so small a fusion will make very little perceptible difference in the results of the religious work of the many in the district. "But we must not overlook that two of these three united denominations occupy a large place in the religious life of the peninsula. "The Methodist denomination, a win-out doubt covers more ground and has more preaching stations in the two counties—Lincoln and Welland—than any other communion and the Presbyterian denomination is probably a close second. "The three negotiating denominations serve no less than 55 localities in the two counties, having places of worship in each of them. In some, more than one church and congregation. The names of the places served are given in the tabulation below. "The strength of each communion in the district may be known from the number of preaching stations each has. The Congregationalists have but four; the Presbyterians, 29; and the Methodists, 50, or a total of 83. "A glance at the list below shows that in at least 50 of the 55 places served by all three denominations there will be union congregations. Also that in at least 14 localities there will be both union and anti-union congregations. This will give the minority in any congregation, who are dissatisfied with the way the vote went, an opportunity to find a church home more to their liking in the sister congregation. "In 22 places there will be a union congregation but no anti-union congregations but no union." The list showing the changes is as follows:

Of the many stories of Billingsgate dialect that Dr. Johnson seems the truest. The great man, it is said, made a bet with Boswell that he could put one of the fishwives in a passion without saying a word that she could understand. He then silently indicated to her with his nose that her flesh was stale. Whereupon the fishwife opened her verbal attack. Dr. Johnson answered: "You are an article," and to her next sally: "You are a noun," and so he proceeded through the parts of speech till she broke down crying at being thus "blackguarded."

"Passing the Blue Lion, the priest caught Pat coming out with a jug. "Pat, what is it you have in that jug?" asked the reverend gentleman, looking very stern. "Whiskey, sorr," replied Pat. "To whom does it belong?" asked the good man. "To me and my brother John, sorr." "Well, Pat, pour your share out and be a sober man." "I can't sorr," answered Pat. "mine's at the bottom."

Mr. Isaac Isaacs was being married to the girl of his heart, and his friends stood around and admired his manly bearing at the altar. The ceremony had only just started when Isaac went pale and turned away. "I must be going now!" he exclaimed. "Hush, hush!" whispered his prospective father-in-law. "You mustn't think of it now!" "But I must!" cried Isaac. "I've just remembered I've left the door of my safe wide open!" "Vell, vell," said the old man, "vat the need to bother? It will be all right. All your friends are here!" —Advt.

A VAST OUTLAY
Some idea is gained of what an enormous job it is to look after the telephone requirements of this community when we learn from the Bell Telephone Company's Annual Report that additions to the Company's property in 1924, made up of land, buildings, central office equipment and outside millions. Net additions to plant amounted to $12,086,662.00, the difference being chiefly old plant displaced. —Advt.
